

Chronic Care and Disease Management Program Presents:

Rhode Island Department of Health, Women's Cancer Screening Program

Thursday, January 19, 2017 | 8:30–9:30 AM

RI Department of Health Auditorium | 3 Capitol Hill, Providence, RI 02908

Brenda J. Di Paolo, BA

Program Manager,
RI Women's Cancer Screening Program
Providence, RI

Program Description

The Affordable Care Act (ACA) changed many areas of the breast screening process. Join us in obtaining a complete update on the changes made to the RI Women's Cancer Screening Program to comply with the ACA. Learn about the updated referral process, where to send patients for screening and what criteria are now included.

Target Audience

Practice teams including physicians, nurses, nurse care managers, medical assistants, and other team members.

Educational Objectives

At the conclusion of this session, attendees should be able to:

1. Identify services provided by the Women's Cancer Screening Program pre and post ACA
2. Understand the Women's Cancer Screening Program eligibility criteria and referral process for uninsured
3. Recognize the Women's Cancer Screening Program statewide network of Provider sites

Chronic Care and Disease Management Program

This session is part of the Chronic Disease Webinar Series being offered by the RI Dept. of Health's RI Chronic Care Collaborative. Helping to integrate quality improvement and patient activation among chronic disease patients is integral to high-quality primary care.
