

Free Train-the-Trainer Workshops on Shared Decision Making

Engaging Patients through the SHARE Approach

The Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ) and the Rhode Island Care Transformation Collaborative are sponsoring a FREE one-day train-the-trainer workshop on shared decision making on May 19, 2016 in Cranston Rhode Island.

- Learn about AHRQ’s SHARE Approach, a five-step process for shared decision making.
- Learn simple, practical ways to use evidence-based, patient-centered outcomes research (PCOR) information and resources to support shared decision making.
- Access a range of research summaries and patient decision aids from AHRQ’s Effective Health Care Program.
- Participate in an ongoing learning network of trainers and receive ongoing technical assistance as you work to implement shared decision making.
- Earn over six (6.25) hours of continuing education units (CEUs).
- Learn how to train others on shared decision making and offer them 5.75 CME/CEU’s.

Visit www.AHRQ.gov/shareddecisionmaking to learn more about the SHARE Approach

» Step 1: Decide your primary care practice readiness for Shared Decision Making Training:

- ✓ Leadership support
- ✓ Will provide staff time for training
- ✓ Will provide implementation time

» Step 1: Decide who will attend and train others. Participants will be given a User Guide with tools and resources provided by AHRQ; Select participants who are:

- ✓ Enthusiastic about shared decision making
- ✓ Experienced clinicians
- ✓ Public speakers
- ✓ Willing to commit the time to prepare and deliver training

» Step 3: Consider having 2 people attend.

When: May 19, 2016, 8:30-4:30

Where: The Rhode Island Shriners
Imperial Room at One Rhodes Place
One Rhodes Place
Cranston RI 02905

Register: <http://bit.ly/RegisterNowAHRQ>